This year, the London Group annual exhibition is to be held at The Handbag Factory. This is a large space with lots of scope, offering members an exciting opportunity for an ambitious exhibition that can accommodate larger artworks and events. The Annual Committee are doing their best to negotiate the complexities that come with a more dynamic artwork remit. With that in mind, they are including an additional stage to the submissions. All deadlines stated have to, please, be strictly adhered to.

WATERLOO 2026: NOW I MAKE A LEAF OF VOICES

KEY DATES

Portal Opens: End of March

Exhibition dates: Early July - early November 2026

Call for activities and events: by 13 March to stathis.dimitriadis@yahoo.com

Venue: St Johns Churchyard, St Johns Waterloo, 73 Waterloo Road, SE1 8TY

ABOUT

Contact: Stathis - stathis.dimitriadis@yahoo.com

This year's Waterloo 2026 exhibition theme is 'Now I make a leaf of voices' celebrating polyphony and plurality as the foundation of the creative expression. This theme is shared with the Waterloo Festival 2026, and can take the shape of personal and communal voices, inspired by emotions, histories, opinions.

The London Group members will be invited in an Open Call at the end of March to participate with artworks suitable to be placed outdoors, surviving the weather conditions, for the period of 2 months (July & Aug) and are meant to integrate with the garden locations of St John's in a meaningful way. To increase the impact and resonance of the exhibition, this year we are planning to extend the invitation to participate in one invited non-member artist per participating member (you can invite if you commit to participate). More information and detailed requirements will be communicated at the Open Call at the end of March.

Following the successful poetry & workshop events from last year, we are encouraging the participating London Group members to think and propose ideas for public engagement events with the local community groups (related to the work they plan to bring or their art practice and the theme). If you are interested in running and/or participating in such activities please send your ideas/proposals directly to Stathis (stathis.dimitriadis@yahoo.com) by the 13th of March.
